

Easier adaptation with Ribbond Securing Composite

Ribbond Securing Composite is the ideal composite to adapt Ribbond fibers to the teeth. It applies easily like a flowable but has a special “tacky” characteristic to hold the Ribbond fibers in position. Unlike a thicker restorative composite, the unique viscosity of Ribbond Securing Composite allows it to be easily displaced during adaptation of the fibers. This minimizes the bond-line, maximizes the laminate effect and makes adaptation easier.
